OLIVES GARAGE BURNS TO GROUND TUESDAY NIGHT

The first fire for over a year occurred in Carbon on Tuesday night when T. R. Olives garage on main street burned to the ground. The fire alarm was sounded at 11:45, when the fire was first noticed, but before a crowd arrived and the water was turned on, the garage was a mass of flames. The old creamery had also caught fire but quick action after the water was turned on saved this building, although one wall was badly scorched. In the garage was Fred Poxon's bus and Carl Moorhouse's Pontiac sedan and these were both completely destroyed. Some insurance was carried on both of the vehicles. We could not ascertain if any insurance was carried on the garage building.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

January 28, 1929

Editor, Carbon Chronicle
Dear Sir:

I would like to draw the attention of your readers to the work that is being done in the "community spirit" by the Carbon Tennis Club.

We have specially taken up tennis as it seems to be the only sport that old and young, men and ladies, school girls and boys, can play together and get healthy exercise and beneficial recreation. There appears to be no other sport in this town that combines sociability and active exercise for all ages and both sexes as tennis does, while the ethics of fairness and square dealing taught by the game, are an asset to the boys and girls of any community.

We were greatly encouraged by the number who joined the Club last year (46) and the enthusiasm shown. We feel however, that in order to give real service to all those who desire to play it will be necessary to put in three more tennis courts and the estimated cost is $400. This sum we are trying to raise by giving a series of dances, and I sincerely trust that those who have spoken so freely of the benefits of the "community spirit" in the past, will try to show the right

OLD TIMERS ASSOCIATION HOLD SUCCESSFUL EVENT

The Old Timers of the Carbon district held their fifth annual celebration in the Farmers Exchange hall last Thursday evening, when about sixty couples turned out. The small crowd was due to the cold weather, although some members motored from distant points to be present for the occasion.

The first part of the evening was spent in whist, the following being the prize winners: Ladies first Mrs. McNaughton; second, Mrs. J. Shale; consolation, Mrs. Wm. Gibson.

Gentlemen—1st, Ross Thorburn; 2nd, K. Clarke; Consolation M. Dalzel.

Following the whist drive the local orchestra played old time music for dancing and during the evening a prize waltz contest was staged, Mrs. Dalzel and Thos. Ramsay being the winners.

After midnight supper the Annual meeting of the Old Timers Association was held and the following officers were elected for the year:

President, Ross Thorburn; Vice-President, Jas. Gordon; Secretary-Treasurer, Fred Poxon. Executive Committee: Mesdames McFarlane, W. Van Loon, Thos. Ramsay, A. Shaw, and F. Poxon.

A real enjoyable time was had by all those present on this occasion and in spite of the small crowd the Old Timers Association cleared expenses on the evenings entertainment.

VALENTINE DANCE

The Valentine dance in the Farmers Exchange hall on Thursday, February 14th promises to be the event of the season. There will be special music, decorations that will remind you of all you ever heard of Cupid and Psyche, dreamy moonlight waltzes, etc. In addition to these attractions Miss Smith, premier danseuse of Penley's dancing Academy and Mr. Penley will give a selection of classic dances in the interval. This alone will be well worth the price of admission. Tickets are on sale at the Farmers' Exchange, C.H. Nash's Mack's Drug Store and W. A. Braisher's.

spirit by attending these dances or at least purchasing a ticket.

At our last dance we only just made expenses and I am taking this opportunity of thanking those who came from Swallow and Hesketh, as well as our own townspeople who loyally supported our efforts. I am however, somewhat surprised to notice that some members of other organizations, who talk so much of the "community spirit" were conspicuous by their absence.

The tennis players have strongly supported the dances put on by these other organizations and we thought they would at least reciprocate.

The Tennis Club is putting on another dance in the near future and we hope that the loyal support of all will be given, now that the object of these dances has been explained.

Yours truly

The Noxious Weeds Menace

This is an age of conventions. They are a natural growth and outcome of the more complex and highly organized development of modern life. They are, too, a recognition of the fact that the principles and methods of co-operation are, in many ways and to a large extent, replacing the old individualistic ideas and efforts of the past. This is not to say that the value of individual responsibility and initiative has been, or is to be, discarded; rather, that in this age of rapid transportation and communication the old isolation has disappeared and peoples and nations are brought close together. They must, therefore, act as units rather than as distinct and separate entities.

This by way of introduction to a reference to a recent gathering held in Saskatchewan at the call of the Provincial Minister of Agriculture, namely, the first Saskatchewan Weed Conference. It was not a large and spectacular convention as many present-day conventions are, but in the importance of the problem it met to consider, it took second place to none. And while it was a Saskatchewan conference, its deliberations and findings were of equal value to the other prairie provinces.

The conference was summoned in recognition of the fact that weeds are making tremendous headway in Western Canada, and that some action must be taken, over and above the preventive policies of the past, if the inroads of weeds and the consequent enormous loss to the farmers and the country as a whole is to be checked.

The conference was attended not only by officials of the Saskatchewan Government, municipalities and farmers' organizations, but by Dominion Government officials, representatives of the railways, mortgage and loan companies, manufacturers, business men, merchants—in a word, every organization having a vital interest in the productive capacity and prosperity of Western Canada.

It was frankly and unanimously agreed that the whole country must be aroused and organized in a campaign for the destruction and elimination of weeds. The only alternative is a rapidly decreasing agricultural production both in quantity and quality, smaller returns to the farmer, and decreased business and prosperity for all.

The duty and responsibility of the individual farmer in the matter of keeping his own land free of weeds was in no sense minimized, but it was recognized that, human nature being what it is, some men will neglect their duty, and while they themselves suffer as a result of such neglect, they also inflict loss upon their neighbors who are doing their duty, and upon the community and country as a whole.

The need, therefore, for concerted Government and municipal action was emphasized, and the absolute necessity, in the interest of all, for more drastic control recognized.

It was realized that not only must existing weeds be brought under control and eradicated, but that much more efficient measures must be taken and greater precautions observed to put a stop to the sowing of weed seeds and the propagation of the weed plants.

It is not possible in this article to discuss all the phases of this intricate problem, but at this season of the year, when farmers are beginning to think about and plan their work for the spring, one factor may well be stressed. That is, the importance of sowing good, clean seed and not a mixture of grain, good and bad, and weed seeds.

The astounding discovery was made by the seed drill survey conducted in Saskatchewan that 70 per cent. of the seed sown in the province was lower than No. 2, due largely to the inefficient operation of farm fanning mills. In other words, while farmers and governmental authorities on the one hand are fighting weeds, the farmers in the sowing of their crops are planting thousands of bushels of weed seeds.

The first step towards victory over the weed enemy is to put an immediate and definite stop to the planting of weed seeds in prepared soil. If the propagation of weeds is continually carried on and assisted in this way, it must be recognized that the weed menace will grow, and that final victory will rest with it and not with the farmer.

The spring slogan for all Western farmers in 1929 should be: Look to your seed grain. See to it, above everything else, that it is good, clean seed. If weed seeds are sown, it is inevitable that weeds will be harvested. Remember, it is still everlastingly true in farming as in all the activities of life that, whatever a man sows that shall he also reap.

During the World War a person's gallantry was tested for flying by an elaborate turning chair.

Politeness is one of the best investments known. It pays enormous dividends.

To Check "FLU," Grippe

Fights the Germs in the Throat Before They Invade Other Parts of the Body.

EFFECTIVE PREVENTIVE MEASURES EXPLAINED

Simple precautions taken now will enable you to fight dreaded "Flu" which is sweeping rapidly through the whole country. The germs of influenza gain access to the body through the mouth and throat. Keep the throat healthy and you go a long way towards stopping the trouble. An effective means of prevention is to gargle the throat three or four times daily with Nerviline. Half a teaspoonful of Nerviline in water makes a most efficient gargle. The germ-killing properties of Nerviline quickly destroy any bacteria in the mouth or throat. If the chest is sore, if the throat is hoarse, if you have a cough—be sure, to rub the neck and chest with Nerviline. Every drop of it will rub in, and out will come the congestion.

Of course it is absolutely necessary to house-clean the system with Dr. Hamilton's Pills which stimulate the eliminating organs, and rid the system of disease-breeding wastes. This combination treatment of Nerviline and Dr. Hamilton's Pills will give prompt and entirely satisfactory results.

Lieutenant-Governor Appointed

J. D. McGregor, Brandon, to Succeed Late Hon. T. A. Burrows

J. D. McGregor, Brandon, has been appointed lieutenant-governor of the province of Manitoba. Mr. McGregor succeeds the late Hon. T. A. Burrows who died in Winnipeg recently. Announcement of the appointment was made by Premier W. L. Mackenzie King at the conclusion of a meeting of the cabinet.

The lieutenant-governorship was offered Mr. McGregor several days ago, and from his home in Brandon, he announced acceptance of the post, stating that he considered the appointment as a compliment to the agricultural interests of the province rather than to himself personally.

WAS ALWAYS AILING NEVER FELT WELL

Health Restored Through the Use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

"I am one of the many who have found new health through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills," says Mrs. Everitt Dowe, South Nelson, N.B. "For some years I never felt well, and at times was so weak that I would be confined to bed. At the very best I was in an ailing condition and found it difficult at all times to do my housework. I was subject to headaches, poor appetite, breathless at the least exertion, and very pale. Before Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were recommended to me I had tried several medicines, but without any good results. I had become completely discouraged and felt that I would always be an invalid. A friend strongly urged me to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and finally I consented to do so, but without much hope that they would help, where other medicines had failed. But in this, to my joy, I was mistaken. I had not been taking the pills very long when I knew they were helping me. As I continued their use I found my appetite improving, I slept better at night, and my strength was gradually returning. I continued taking the pills for several months, when I again found myself a well woman, and I believe that had it not been for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I would to-day be a helpless invalid. The pills have since been taken by others in our family, with the same beneficial results. I strongly urge every weak woman to try this grand health-building medicine."

If you will send your name and address to The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., a little book, "Building Up the Blood," will be mailed you postpaid.

You can get these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50c a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Advances New Theory

Baltimore Physician Says Lack of Lime Makes People Irritable

More lime in the diet as a preventive for divorce was urged by Dr. George Walker, addressing the National Housewives, Inc., at Baltimore. Absence of lime, he declared, makes a woman nervous and a man cruel—hence family troubles result.

When there is every appearance of a home being wrecked Doctor Walker suggested that lime, as found in a pint of milk, added to the diet of a couple daily for two weeks in all probability would adjust matters, restore amicability and keep the home intact.

He also would add two oranges a day for each and a quarter pound of cold slaw at least three times a week.

Britain's first airplane to be built to automobile design has been placed on the market under the name of Simmonds Spartan light plane.

The craft has four wings, which are interchangeable in the same way that the four wheels of an automobile are interchangeable. There also is a spare wing which is carried for emergencies.

The new machine is fitted with a four-cylinder, air-cooled engine of 30-35 horse-power. It recently was tested on a non-stop flight from London to Berlin, 620 miles, in six hours.

Shipping Sets New Mark

New Westminster Exceeds 1927 Record by Forty-five Ships

A new mark in shipping was set at New Westminster during 1928, exceeding by 45 ships the 1927 record of 153. The figure does not include the coastwise shipping, which is handled through the Department of National Revenue. The net tonnage of the ships handled through the harbor commissioners' office was 625,271 tons and the gross 984,368 tons, compared with 483,603 and 776,229, respectively, in 1927.

Protect Your Children From "Flu," Grippe

A WARNING TO PARENTS!

Flue germs are everywhere today. They reach the system through the nose and throat. Mothers can protect their children in a very simple way.

Take a saucepan of water, place it on a lamp or stove. Add a half teaspoonful of Catarrhozone to a pint of water, which is brought to a boil. Let the steam from the kettle fill the room so that the medicated air is breathed by the child. This germ-killing vapor disinfects the child's breathing organs and kills the "Flu" germs.

Catarrhozone Vapor stops cold, prevents Grippe, relieves Sore Throat, prevents Flu. Safe and efficient. Just as good for adults as for children. If you keep the air in your home disinfected with Catarrhozone Vapor you are well protected from dangerous Flu, Influenza, Grippe, and Colds. All druggists sell Catarrhozone in 50c bottles.

Reconstructs Continent's Oldest Music

DR. HEALEY WILLAN.

The oldest music hitherto recorded on the American continent has been unearthed and reconstructed for production at the forthcoming Sea Music Festival at Vancouver. These are three song-dances ascribed to the Indian Chief Mambertou by Marc Lescarbot, the young lawyer from Paris who in the year 1609 published an entertaining account of the life of the French garrison at Port Royal in Nova Scotia. Lescarbot, like all educated men of his day, was something of a musician, and wrote down in solfa notation the melody of songs he heard this Indian chief sing, but no modern historian appears to have realized the importance of this notation. However, the reconstruction has been made.

Bon-Temps," written in French by Louvigny de Montigny, J. Murray Gibbon of the C. P. R., was struck by the possibilities of this music, and suggested to Dr. Healey Willan, of the Toronto Conservatory of Music, that he should arrange it for modern production. To an Indian, the melody is only half the music, and the problem was to discover the original rhythm. Fortunately after considerable study, Dr. Willan was able to find in the traditional tribal music of the Melicite Indians, who are descendants of the Souriquois of Lescarbot's time, three traditional dance rhythms which exactly fitted the melody of the song. The music, by the French, is a beautiful and delightful song-dances have been reconstructed and have been incorporated in the ballad opera "The Order of Good Cheer," which will be produced on January 25th at Vancouver. Hitherto the oldest song identified with Canada has been the hymn "Jesus Ah-tonia," which Father Brebeuf translated into the Huron dialect about the year 1642 for the Indian converts at Quebec. The song-dances of Chief Mambertou are, however, native to Canada and were noted by Lescarbot in the year 1606. The probability is that they were old even at that time, as folk-tunes are handed down by Indian musicians from generation to generation.

Ste. Petronille

Jack Strathdee, the very able winter sports director at the Chateau Frontenac, his friends will be pleased to learn, is losing weight. Jack runs a summer camp at French River in the fishing season and he took his present job for the reason that he wanted to rest and draw a salary at the same time. When he has time to reflect, and this is seldom, he longs for the easy job of operating a camp and handling a crowd of Indian guides. He finds no rest, for during every daylight hour there is something doing on the ski-hill, on the rink, on the slide—and a hundred people to provide with sports equipment and direction. But he keeps fit as they all do. The air is bracing and invigorating and there is lots of fun.

In the group above one sees the director assisting Their Excellencies Lord and Lady Willingdon who have just come down the slide for the third time. The other group perhaps explains why he finds so much pleasure in his work and why he has taken up skiing again. There is also a picture of his rink which shows how the slide in the background drops down steeply from the citadel.

But take the other picture. This will show you Jack Strathdee's most recent discovery. Beyond the dogs and the terrace is a field of free ice. Beyond that the Isle of Orleans is a shadowy form. Now to the left of the island, just above the lamp standard, great slabs and chunks of crystal and opaque ice hurled themselves in a mass, cast reefs of glistening pinnacles to the sky in one glorious chaos and screeching, groaningly settled down. Then the mayor of St. Gregoire and the mayor of Ste-Petronille set out, each armed with a small spruce cutting. They met somewhere in the centre of the river, solemnly shook hands, and the ice bridge was declared open. It was after that, that the sports director drove over and discovered Ste-Petronille with its ski slopes and toboggan and snowshoe prospects, and also the "Catalogue". The "Catalogue" has a rubble-stone fire place of catalogue about the floor and as window drapes, the oddest old furniture and quaint bed-rooms and, above all a splendid cuisine. It is less than one hour from Quebec and is hailed as a great discovery.

The Port of Montreal has again scored a new record with grain deliveries at 210,500,000 bushels for the season of navigation. Last year's deliveries ran to 195,247,914 bushels and those of 1926 to 134,591,240 bushels.

Many visitors from western cities in Canada and the United States are expected at the Banff Winter Carnival this season, said W. A. Brewster, president of the winter sports organization at Banff, judging from the number of inquiries that have been received. Skiing, skating, and other kindred winter sports will be in full swing, he said, and it now appears there will be many competitors from outside points in the various events.

The present season of navigation is characterized as "a phenomenal year as far as general cargo is concerned" by the chief of the wharfage department of the Harbor Commission of Montreal, commenting on business outside of grain. "We shall show a revenue increase that will be astounding when the annual report comes to be made up," he said.

Although the Canada Colonization Association only started to operate in Ontario last February, it has already placed 139 families on 5,671 acres of Ontario farm lands, according to a statement made recently in Toronto by W. Who Does Your Printing?

All business houses need more or less printed matter, all of which is within the possibilities of the local printer. Yet how prone many are to pass up the home printer and let the orders go to city offices which have no interest whatever in rural communities except to get printing orders and the cash to pay for them. Business men, remember that the home paper is constantly promoting the interests of the home community and you owe it to yourself and your local paper to back up these efforts by at least having your printed matter done locally.

Mendicancy De Luxe

Young Englishman Stimulating Palsy Collected Large Sum Daily

In the opinion of G. K. Chesterton, complete social equality in England will not be achieved until a costermonger may wear a monocle without exciting remark. It would be interesting to have his comment on the discovery by the police of a professional beggar with a valet. A young man, only 23, he was busily engaged in putting Mr. Ford's doctrine into practice and spending his easy earnings in ways which he thought to his own advantage when the authorities evinced an acute curiosity concerning the source and extent of his finances. A country house, with completely equipped billiard room, is another of his luxuries. His income, produced by simulating palsy, has amounted to as much as $100 in a day. Subway travelers, observing his pathetic figure, have been deeply touched—for sums from 10 cents upward. The interruption of this enterprising mendicant's activities, just at the threshold of the prosperous holiday season, must have been especially bitter.

LONG SLEEP MAKES BABY HAPPY AGAIN

"Our baby kept waking us several times a night, until we started giving him a little Castoria after his last nursing," says an Iowa mother. "He slept soundly from the first night and it made him look and feel worlds better." Baby specialists endorse Fletcher's Castoria; and millions of mothers know how this purely-vegetable, harmless preparation helps babies and children, with colic, constipation, colds, diarrhea, etc. The Fletcher signature is always on the wrapper of genuine Castoria. Avoid imitations.

Should Procure Oat Seed

Farmers of Alberta are being advised by the Provincial Department of Agriculture to make the necessary provision for securing the supply of oats for seed which they will require for their 1929 crop. The effects of frost in a number of districts are reflected in a reduction in the germinating quality of a great many of the oats threshed.

Vancouver Port Improvements

The Vancouver Harbor Board is understood to be seeking federal permission for launching a construction program involving $5,000,000 of port improvement. The proposed works include a deep sea pier, the first unit of a cold storage plant, a coastwise pier and extensive additions to the present grain storage capacity of the port.

Last Word In Cruisers

Germany's Latest Ship Makes Product of Other Countries Obsolete

According to the description which Hector C. Bywater, the Baltimore Sun's special correspondent gives, the new German armored cruiser Ersatz Prussien is a triumph of concentrated power. Keeping within the narrow limit of 10,000 tons for armored ships imposed upon her by the treaty of Versailles, Germany has constructed a ship which has the fighting effectiveness of a dreadnought, the speed of a cruiser and the hitherto unheard-of cruising radius of 10,000 miles. In addition, the new cruiser has other novel features which add immensely to its strength, and altogether it represents a production that tends to make the latest ships of other countries immediately obsolete.

How Best to Use Vicks VapoRub After the Flu

Late Winter Colds Are Doubly Dangerous This Year; Don't Let Them Get a Start

AVOID PNEUMONIA OR A SECOND ATTACK OF FLU

If you catch a fresh cold, don't keep it overnight. If possible, go home and go to bed. Take a laxative and a hot lemonade, apply hot wet towels over throat and chest until the skin is thoroughly reddened. Then rub vigorously with Vicks Spread on thickly and cover with warm flannel.

Leave the bed-covering loose, so that the vapors, released by the body-heat, may be freely inhaled. At the same time, Vicks acts through the skin like a poultice.

Repeat this treatment every four hours, eat lightly, and stay in bed until the cold is broken. Complete rest helps the body throw off the cold more quickly.

Mothers especially appreciate Vicks for the children. As it is applied externally, it can be used freely and often, without upsetting delicate digestions, as too much "dosing" is so apt to do.

Skiping Motor Age

China Is Now Turning Her Attention to Aviation

China, if the signs are read aright, is about to "jump" the automobile age and pass direct from the bullock cart and railroad to the aeroplane and all that it embraces. This is not to say that motor car manufacturers may not find a lucrative field in the 18 provinces which comprise China proper, for the automobile is making inroads there; but it is almost certain that before the motor vehicle has become to the east what it has become to the west, aviation will have found acceptance as a common means of conveyance.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON FEBRUARY 10

REPENTANCE AND FAITH

Golden text: Repent ye, and believe in the gospel. Mark 1:15.

Lesson: Isaiah 1:10-20; Ezekiel 18:20-23, 27-32; Mark 2:1-12; Luke 3:1-14; 15:11-24; Acts 2:32-39; Hebrews 11:1-10.

Devotional reading: Psalm 27:1-5.

Explanations and Comments

Jesus Is Sovereign and Messiah, Acts 2:14-36—Peter is speaking to Jews, and his first object is to prove that Jesus fulfilled Old Testament prophecies and expectations in regard to the Messiah, hence he tells them (verses 15-21) that the events of Pentecost which had so amazed them are but the fulfilment of Joel's prophecy (Joel 2:28-32), that at the coming of the Messiah God's Spirit would be poured forth, and old and young, men and women, bond and free, would see visions and speak divine truths.

Then Peter takes up his great theme that Jesus is the Christ, and gives three proofs. First, there are the miracles which his hearers had themselves witnessed. Second, there is the resurrection, of which they all are witnesses: God had raised Jesus from the dead to higher life and wider power. Third, there is the pouring forth of the Holy Spirit at Pentecost, which they have seen and heard: Jesus still lives and cares for His followers, for it is He who has sent the Spirit. Furthermore, the resurrection and exaltation fulfill a prophecy of David, as given in Psalm 110:1:

The Lord said unto my Lord, sit thou on my right hand, Till I make thine enemies the footstool of thy feet.

Two different Hebrew words for Lord are used in the first line, and the meaning is, Jehovah said unto the Messiah. David could not have been speaking of himself, for David did not ascend into the heavens. "Sit thou on my right hand" means, Be partaker of the divine glory and dominion. "Till I make thine enemies the footstool of thy feet" is an expression denoting complete victory, which originated, no doubt, from the ancient custom of conquerors putting their feet on their enemies' necks.

Then comes the climax of Peter's sermon: "Let all the household of Israel therefore know assuredly that God hath made him both Lord and Christ, this Jesus whom ye crucified."

"Are there any questions?" "Yes, sir. How do you calculate the horse-power in a donkey engine?"

Indigestion

What most people call indigestion is usually excess acid in the stomach. The food has soured. The instant remedy is an alkali which neutralizes acids. But don't use crude helps. Use what your doctor would advise.

The best help is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. For the 50 years since its invention it has remained standard with physicians. You will find nothing else so quick in its effect, so harmless, so efficient.

One tasteless spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in acid. The results are immediate, with no bad after-effects. Once you learn this fact, you will never deal with excess acid in the crude ways. Go learn—now—why this method is supreme.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any drugstore.

"Isn't it beautiful?" He indicated with a sweep of his arm the lake, the wooded hills and the glittering glaciers lifting their heads high to the sparkling firmament. He turned to find his companion standing with downcast eyes.

"Don't you like it?" he asked, a trifle resentfully.

Janet raised her head slowly. The limpid depths of the big brown eyes were soft and languorous in the half-light; the full red lips were dewy and tremulous; the peaceful light of the moon shone upon her radiant upturned face, giving it an ethereal glow.

"It is wonderful," she breathed.

Involuntarily he moved closer. What was this inner urge? Love—feeling—emotion, or, it might be, passion?

Laughter and voices came from the trail above. Douglas with several of the visiting party emerged into the white light of the moon. Douglas called his sister's name and Janet and Donald moved up the hill to join them.

CHAPTER XIV

A week before Dominion Day men began applying for leave of absence until the exodus depleted the crew to such an extent that it was deemed advisable to shut down for a week. Donald turned to Gillis as he saw the whole crew of "redshirts" pile tumultuously on the train.

"How often do the men quit like this?" he asked rather irritably.

"Every holiday," replied Gillis.

Donald pondered a moment.

"That means that we may lose a week for Labour Day."

"Very likely."

"Jack, do you think we could keep them here if we held some sort of celebration at the lake?"

"I believe we could," responded Gillis warmly.

"We'll do it then," declared Donald. "We've so many orders ahead that this lay-off may force us to run a night crew."

"Did you spend all your dough, Blackie?" asked Gillis when the "redshirts" arrived back from town.

"Me and Hoop-la spent about two hundred bucks, but we had three hundred dollars' worth o' fun. We ain't got enough money to buy a hummingbird a pair o' leggin's, but we sure had a helluva good time, so we ain't worryin'."

"S'pose you bought them new boots?" inquired Gillis.

Blackie forced a laugh. "Goin' to git them next time, Jack," he continued moving closer to his big boss; "say, Jack, you know that I send twenty dollars to my mother back east ev'ry month. I—I—"

"All right, Blackie," said Gillis gently, "I'll advance it to you."

"Thanks, Jack, you're a good pal," commended Blackie in a relieved tone.

Donald and Gillis walked down the hill to inspect the logs in the boom, and as they walked Gillis indulged in some pointed observations. "You know, Donnie, that these loggers are game guys to come back after spendin' all their money and say: 'We had a good time, so we ain't worryin'. The man ain't human that won't worry after spendin' in a few days the money it's taken him six months to earn swingin' an axe an' draggin' a saw. Still, they hide their remorse under a grin and tell of what a good time they've had. So many people think that loggers spend all their money for booze. Tain't so. That gang of mine give away about half their money to bums around town. I have seen Blackie give away twenty bucks at a time."

As they passed the high-rigger's little cabin, Gillis poked his head through the door. Blackie was absorbed in the task of sewing a patch on a pair of worn boots. A mournful wind blew querulously around the cabin.

"Say, Blackie, do you know what that wind is saying?"

Blackie grunted a negative.

"Here's what it's sayin'," said Gillis as he puckered his lips: "O-o-o-o-oh! Where has your summer wages gone! Oh, where has your summer—"

Gillis dodged back as a boot came whizzing past his head.

Midsummer brought an epidemic of labor disturbances throughout the Province. A radical organization seized on a time when work was plentiful and labor scarce to spread their insidious propaganda through the camps. Railroad construction in the interior had been seriously interfered with, and in many cases there had been violence and bloodshed.

Two agitators arrived at the Summit Mill, and the next day several of the men—including Hand and Blackie—did not appear when the whistle blew. Gillis found them in Blackie's cabin in a half-drunken condition. That afternoon Renwick ordered the two strangers off the premises and discharged Hand.

Hoop-la begged successfully for lenience toward his erring pal. "You know how booze affects Blackie, Jack," he pleaded.

Donald became aware of a changed bearing on the part of many of the men. Sullenness had fallen upon them; discontent manifested itself, as well as insubordination. That afternoon spikes driven in the logs wreaked havoc with the saws and forced a partial shut-down.

A committee of four men waited on Renwick and presented an ultimatum. They demanded a heavy increase in wages, or they would call for an immediate cessation of work on the part of the men they represented. Renwick promptly refused. In 15 minutes every man in the mill except the clerical staff, the mechanics and the engineer, walked out. In the woods only Gillis' "redshirts" remained at work.

The strikers moved up the track and made camp on a point of land on the lake shore. That night the door of the commissary was pried from its hinges and a quantity of food stolen, and the night watchman put out a fire of incendiary origin.

Renwick, while returning from the power house, was shot at twice from ambush. He wired his resignation to Robert Rennie, and in terrified haste packed his belongings and left on the next train. An hour later the agent brought Donald a telegram:

"Donald McLean,
Summit Mill.

"You are promoted to position vacated by Renwick. Refuse strikers' demands. Ship at Squamish Oriental order white pine. Utmost importance lumber loaded within week. Use every means in power to keep plant operating."

"Robert Rennie."

He passed the message to Gillis. The big man turned and grasped Donald's hand in congratulation.

"We'll get that order out on time or bust," declared Gillis grimly.

Donald distributed firearms among his loyal men, and one-half the crew patrolled the plant while the others slept.

Donald had been up the greater part of the night, and at Gillis' earnest request he went to his cabin near midnight. As the door closed behind him, Connie, with her rifle resting in the hollow of her arm, rose silently from behind a tree in the darkness of the hillside and flitted noiselessly on moccasined feet from stump to stump. Unseen she reached the corner of Donald's cabin, where she sank to the ground with the soft, slow grace of a nestling bird.

The Cheakamus Mill, robbed of man-power, was forced to cease operations. At the Summit Mill work went on with such speed as in the situation Donald was able to induce in the men, who were on edge. To him it seemed that they were working on top of a powder mine that might go off at any moment. He discovered in himself a faculty to handle men and to raise them to a fever pitch of enthusiasm—not that the B. C. logger is a hard man to lift to the fighting point. His fight against great odds had gained the sympathy of the loyal—a sympathy and respect that money could not buy. Gillis' gang, with the exception of "Blackie," remained fervently faithful.

Tolling in the hot sun, nearly blinded by sweat, singing lustily, this gallant crew worked their 12 hours without a murmur of complaint. Donald lived on the job, ate on the job, and all day long he drove his men even as he drove himself. His rest consisted of such fitful snatches of sleep as he could steal between his rounds of the night guards.

The first move of the strikers was not of open violence. The haul-back on two of the donkeys broke without apparent reason; one of the big saws had been tampered with; Wilkinson reported two fires of incendiary origin, and also that an attempt to dynamite the power-house had been frustrated.

On the third morning Hand, at the head of a mob of 50 men, made a swift descent on the lumbering operations. It might have been successful if Donald had not expected something of this kind and set efficient watch.

The invaders came down the track in a solid body, armed with cant-dog handles, pick axes and clubs, and thirsting for battle. At Donald's quick shout of warning his men dropped their tools and came on the run to form in a compact body behind him.

"Don't use your guns unless you have to," he warned, as he noticed several of them flash their revolvers.

Donald climbed quickly to the top of a large stump. In his left hand he held a stick of dynamite with fuse attached; in his right he held a match close to the dangling fuse. "Men!" he cried in a determined tone, "if you move forward one step I will throw this."
